

FEDERAL CABINET SHUFFLE TUESDAY, SAYS DIEFENBAKER

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today "the reorganization of the cabinet will take place on Tuesday."

He also told reporters as he entered a morning cabinet meeting that the cabinet reorganization will be coupled with the appointment of a new lieutenant-governor of British Columbia.

Three cabinet portfolios are vacant—secretary of state, forestry and veterans affairs.

There have been reports that Defence Minister Peakres 72, will relinquish his portfolio to succeed Frank M. Ross as British Columbia's lieutenant-governor. Mr. Ross's five-year term expired Monday.

New Constitution Okay With Gov't

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Fulton said today the federal government is willing, if the provinces agree, to discuss ways of writing a wholly new constitution for Canada.

But at the noon adjournment of the first day of the dominion-provincial constitutional conference, Mr. Fulton, as chairman of the meeting, said a compromise will first have to be found on the thorny problem of how to proceed.

Mr. Fulton first suggested the conference try to reach agreement on a formula for bringing the British North America Act—Canada's basic constitutional document and an enactment of the British Parliament—into Canadian domicile so that it can be amended in Canada without reference to the United Kingdom Parliament.

Then he suggested, the conference could search for a formula for amending the act in Canada.

PLAN NOT INFLEXIBLE

Saskatchewan opposed this approach, but Mr. Fulton said his two-stage plan was not inflexible.

Ontario's Attorney-General Kelso Roberts told the conference Ontario is willing to consider any formula "that will end a situation which now exists in no other self-governing member of the British Commonwealth of nations," the inability of Canada to amend its own constitution.

REMEMBRANCE DAY STAYS AT NOV. 11

OTTAWA (CP)—No change is being considered in the Nov. 11 date of Remembrance Day in Canada, Deputy State Secretary Charles Stein said today. This year, it falls on Friday.

A London report Wednesday night said Queen Elizabeth has decided that Nov. 13 shall be observed in the United Kingdom as Remembrance Sunday in honor of the dead of two world wars.

"There Will Have To Be Summit" Macmillan Says

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan returned from New York today and said "there will have to be" a summit meeting to negotiate outstanding world problems.

The British leader, in a cheerful mood, told reporters Premier Khrushchev had failed to shake the position of United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld or to stampede UN members into reorganizing the world organization.

Macmillan was asked if he felt there is a chance of an East-West summit meeting early next year as a result of his two face-to-face meetings with the Soviet premier. He replied:

"I cannot tell.
"There will have to be a meeting eventually to negotiate on some of those world problems that failed to discuss in Paris last May. . . I am hopeful that the Russians will agree. . . I hope it is going to happen and it ought to happen."

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) The New York Herald Tribune says British Prime Minister Macmillan and Soviet Premier Khrushchev have reached a compromise agreement to work toward East-West disarmament negotiations.

Under the plan, the paper says, talks will be conducted simultaneously on political and technical levels.

The agreement was reached Tuesday in a meeting between Khrushchev and Macmillan and night, the Herald Tribune says.

PROPAGANDA DRIVE SAGGING

Khrushchev Loses Bounce

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet time since arriving here he showed definite signs of being tired. He cracked fewer jokes, waving a day-and-night propaganda offensive against the West for the last 17 days.

The 66-year-old Soviet premier seems to have lost some of the bounce pep that has made him communism's No. 1 salesman.

He is grimly pressing ahead with his one-way crusade. But the pace is beginning to tell on his robust physique.

Wednesday night for the first to 20-minute stops at an Indian middle of next week.

He wound up with a 45-minute stay at a Communist Romanian get-together. But instead of circulating through the crowd, he spent most of the time in a side room conferring privately with his European satellite chiefs.

Khrushchev and his aides are guarding his departure date like the secret to Russia's success in rocketry. There are clues which suggest he might leave about the middle of next week.

Doctors Deal Gingerly With Issue Of Drug Prices

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia doctors dealt gingerly with the controversial problem of drug prices and urged further expansion of the province's rehabilitation and chronic care programs at the annual convention of the B.C. Medical Association Wednesday.

On the question of drug prices, a BCMA committee studying the problem reported it had found it "impossible to reach definite conclusions or worthwhile opinions."

"The recent outcry in the press," stated the report, "... has been answered by representatives of the pharmaceutical industry and it is probably up to the individual to form his own views from the conflicting statements and his own experience."

On the subject of chronic care, the association made it clear it feels the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service's new $1-a-day chronic care program, introduced Sept. 1, is no solution to the growing problem of chronic illness. It said more facilities and services are needed and a central agency should be designated to institute and co-ordinate them. The association urged:

1. An increase in outpatient facilities for rehabilitation.

2. Rehabilitation facilities be made available to patients in their homes.

3. Convalescent units be set up as well as the rehabilitation units proposed by BCCHS.

4. Long-term, low-interest government loans to private operators to encourage construction of more private hospitals and nursing homes.

EXTORTION ALLEGED

Mountie Tells Of Hiding In Bedroom, Heard Threat

A RCMP officer in Kelowna Thursday testified to having concealed himself in a bedroom to overhear a conversation in the next room between an alleged extortionist and his alleged victim.

Frank Joseph Bedry was remanded for trial at the next sitting of the county court in Kelowna.

Earlier he had elected for trial by a judge sitting without a jury, on a charge of attempting to extort money from Louis Letourneur, 77, of 530 Sutherland Ave.

It was alleged that he received $800 from Mr. Letourneur having threatened to accuse him of disposing of stolen cattle in the sale of his holding at Val Marie, Sask. in 1960.

The RCMP officer stated that on Sept. 2 in Letourneur's house he heard Bedry question Letourneur about a cattle transaction in Saskatchewan, when the phone rang and Letourneur went to answer it.

When he returned, the constable said, Bedry asked him had he many friends? Did the police know? Had he told his wife about the money? And, he continued, Letourneur answered he had told his wife.

The officer said the following conversation then took place: Bedry: "Told about the money?" Letourneur: "Yes, a little. Do you want more?" Bedry: "No, I'll give you back your $800."

Bedry: "I'll give it back."

The officer stated that Bedry referred to a 12-year-old Saskatchewan girl and made an accusation which Letourneur denied. See MOUNTIE TELLS Page 3

ANOTHER REMAND IN HEATHMAN CASE

KAMLOOPS (CP)—Charles Murral Heathman, a transient charged with murder in connection with the death Sept. 2 of 11-year-old Donald Oliver of Vernon, today was remanded to Oct. 14 when he will again appear in court here.

Heathman will face a preliminary hearing in Vernon, but he will appear in court here until fingerprint records and police records have been checked. Heathman is being held in custody at the provincial jail in Kamloops.

Pro-Republic Forces Lead In South Africa

JOHANNESBURG (CP)—Pro-republic forces moved into the lead tonight as votes were tallied from Wednesday's white South African referendum on whether the country should become a republic.

With 125 out of a total of 156 constituencies heard from, the pro-republic groups had a majority of 475 votes.

At the end of counting Wednesday night, opponents of Prime Minister Hendrick Verwoerd's governing Nationalist party had a lead of 102,000 votes. The anti-republican vote was pared away today as results came in from rural areas where the Nationalist strength and republican sentiment are strongest.

United party leader Sir de Villiers Graaff, who led the anti-republicans, had not yet conceded defeat and Verwoerd had not yet claimed a victory.

Dutch-born Verwoerd has declared that he will consider a majority of only one vote a mandate to submit to the nationalist-controlled Parliament legislation to turn South Africa into a republic, substituting an elected president for Queen Elizabeth II as chief of state and recognizing the British sovereign only as head of the Commonwealth.

Murder Retrial Goes To Jury

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Carole Tregoff, I turn your destiny over to God and his jury," said defence counsel Donald Bringgold as he completed final arguments at her murder retrial.

Miss Tregoff, 23, and her lover, Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42, are charged with slaying the physician's wife, Barbara. Their first trial ended with a deadlocked jury.

Bringgold's summation Wednesday was made with tears in his eyes. He reminded the jury that the prosecution had called Miss Tregoff an adulteress, then quoted from the Bible about an adulteress being brought before Christ.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—New York Yankees bomber six Pittsburgh pitchers for 19 hits, including a pair of homers by Mickey Mantle, in crushing the Pirates 16-3 today. This tied the world series at 1-1.

The two homers, driving in five runs, and a seven-hit, seven-run spree in the sixth inning, wrecked the Pirates. The Yankees' hit total was only one behind the series record of 20 set by New York Giants in 1921 and St. Louis Cardinals in 1946.

The teams will take Friday off and then resume the best-of-seven series in New York's Yankee Stadium Saturday. Whitey Ford (12-9) of the Yankees is expected to oppose Pittsburgh's Vinegar Bend Mizell (14-8) in a battle of left handers.

Despite the big cushion his mates gave him, right hander Bob Turley, shaky all the way, couldn't finish the game. He was replaced by Bobby Shantz with one out in the ninth and had two men on. Shantz then ended the game by getting Don Hoak to hit into a double play.

Pittsburgh was trailing 3-1 when Mantle unloaded his first homer—and first hit of the series—against the left handed Fred Green in the fifth inning. Green had just relieved starter Bob Friend. Mantle, batting right handed, drove a low liner into the right field and to score Gil McDougald, who had walked.

Mantle's 12th world series homer appeared to be enough but the Yankees weren't satisfied. They unloaded seven hits for as many runs against Green, Clem Labine and George (Red) Witt in the sixth inning.

CHANGES PAID-OFF

Elston Howard, sent behind the plate in one of manager Casey Stengel's three lineup changes, and Bobby Richardson each rapped out two hits in the big inning. Then Mickey gave the 37,200 Forbes Field spectators a thrill by blasting a three-run, 475-foot homer over the centre field wall.

Mantle, again batting right handed against left-handed Job Gibson, became the first right-handed batter to clear the wall in centre.

Mantle's 13th series homer put him only two behind Babe Ruth's record of 15.

Turley squirmed out of one light hole after another. The Pirates just couldn't break through in the early innings when it seemed one more hit would have chased Turley out of the game.

FRIEND FANS SIX

Friend was rapped for six hits and three runs in the four innings he pitched before going out for a pinch-hitter. He fanned six, four in the first two innings.

The Yankees nicked Friend for two runs in the third inning and a lone in the fourth. In the third, a walk, sacrifice and a single by Tony Kubek and a double by McDougald accounted for two runs. Kubek collected three singles for a total of six in the two games.

In the fourth Richardson's single, a passed ball and Turley's single brought in the third run. The Pirates, threatening at this point, scored their only run in the fourth. Gino Cimoli, playing left in place of injured Bob Skinner, and Smokey Woodward singled in succession. Scrappy Don Hoak, playing despite a painful groin injury, doubled to score Cimoli. But Turley retired the next three batters.

In the ninth, a hit batsman, and three straight singles by Rocky Nelson, Gino Cimoli and Smokey Woodward accounted for one run. Richardson, throwing wild in attempting to run down Burgess, let Nelson score the second run of the inning. Then Shantz came in to end game.

The letter, from the association's secretary Art Spence reads: "I am instructed to convey the bitter disappointment of this association in the recent Order-In-Council rescinding permission to hunt in the Silver Star Provincial Park. We refer you to our letter of the 22nd of Sept. 1959. This would appear to be a case where the minority rule and promises are to be regarded as a subterfuge to gain a selfish end. On the local level we have been subjected to this type of treatment for some time. Never have our honest efforts of co-operation or compromise met with the reception they have deserved. There has never been an honest and valid reason offered for the closing of the park to hunters. The latest move effectively closes the park proper and adjacent areas of public lands in excess of 50,000 acres for which the only access not crossing private property is through the park. This not only affects Vernon but other areas such as Lumby and Armstrong and also visiting hunters. If there were some conflict between the various classes of users, which there is not, or any other valid reason, we would be the first to back any such regulation as a safety measure. It can be seen from the enclosed approximate sketch how unfair this closure really is. The fact that the Kelowna General Hospital has received two pieces of equipment from the Junior Hospital Auxiliary. The mobile X-ray unit and Bird respirator, costing a total of $1,000 are shown above at the hand-over ceremony. Attending the ceremony were, left to right Mrs. Rex Lupton, president of the Junior Hospital Auxiliary; A. D. Cryderman, director of the hospital;

HOSPITAL HELPED BY AUXILIARY

Mrs. Harold August, buying chairman of the auxiliary; Art Cliffe, senior X-ray technician; Mrs. George Holland, of the auxiliary and Dr. W. S. Cave, chief of surgery.

Auxiliary Hands Over Two Gifts To Kelowna Hospital

The continuing support of the Kelowna General Hospital by the Junior Hospital Auxiliary has again been demonstrated when the board became the recipient of two new items of equipment given by the ladies of that organization.

The two items totalling in value approximately $1,000, were a mobile X-ray unit (the second such unit in the hospital) earmarked for use in the operating room, yet at the same time acting as a standby in the event of the other unit requiring repairs, and a Bird respirator, the latest type of respirator available for use in certain categories of serious cases.

SINCERE THANKS

The Ladies of the Junior Hospital Auxiliary present were Mrs. Rex Lupton, president, who expressed the auxiliary's satisfaction in being able to give such equipment to the hospital. Mrs. Joan McPherson, Mrs. Harold August, Mrs. Harold Henderson, Mrs. Lily Palmer, Mrs. George Holland and Mrs. Jack Bews. Mrs. Agnes Cormack received acknowledgments on behalf of the Hospital Board, and expressed the most sincere thanks of the board for this practical evidence of interest and support, and added an appeal to the community hospital.

Also present were Mr. A. D. Cryderman, director; Miss C. C. Sinclair, Director of Nursing; Mrs. D. Keating, Assistant Director of Nursing and Mr. A. Cliffe, Senior X-ray Technician.

COUNCIL ACQUITS SAWMILL OF CAUSING BEACH POLLUTION

City council is satisfied that Simpson Sawmills Ltd. is doing everything possible to prevent its log boom from adding to pollution on Sutherland Beach. Mayor R. F. Parkinson said, during a recent discussion of the matter, the firm were entitled to have the boom placed there and was doing all in its power to stop the flow of dirt and sawdust on to the beach area.

He added that it was by no means certain that the boom was responsible for the concentration of slime and debris there, and that the position could have been brought about by natural agents.

Assured by the sawmill of continued vigilance to minimize any drift, the council decided to take no further action on a petition signed by more than 200 residents requesting that the lumber company be asked to clean up the beach and provide nets etc. for its protection.

The witness testified to hearing Bedry say "Do you know you can be arrested for bribing a police officer?" and later "I want you to come back to Val Marie."

When Letourneau asked "What about?" he said, the reply was "stolen cattle" and Bedry went on to say "See you Tuesday, but I don't want more money."

The officer also stated he heard Letourneau say: "I am an old man. I worry. If I go to jail my wife will die. She worries."

Giving evidence of arrest, another RCMP officer said that he took possession from Bedry of a certificate, identity card and leaflets bearing the headings "Associated Special Investigators, St. John, New Brunswick."

Louis Letourneau stated that on Aug. 18 the accused told him he was a "stock detective" and going to have him taken back to Val Marie in connection with stolen cattle.

He testified to giving a total of $600 to Bedry on Aug. 18 and a further $200 on Aug. 24. He said Bedry had told him he (Bedry) had "helped quite a few people" and would report in Val Marie that Louis Letourneau was either dead or in Europe.

FOUR MAN

Mr. Letourneau stated that Bedry had told him he was being easy on him as he was a poor man and mentioned he would get $10,000 from another man in town. Subsequent to giving the money to the accused, Mr. Letourneau said, he consulted with city lawyer Allan W. Bilsland and went with him to the police.

Magistrate D. M. White remanded the accused in custody until he can find two sureties of $5,000 each.

Brian C. Weddell appeared for the prosecution and George Patrick Reilly of Kamloops for the defense.

Work By B.C. Painters Show At Library

Two huge crates of pictures from Vancouver have arrived at the Kelowna Branch Okanagan Regional Library it was reported here Wednesday.

Mrs. M. Foulkes of the library said "The pictures, all done by B.C. painters, will be displayed around the walls of the main library room until Oct. 15."

The paintings include such well-known artists as Aspel, Plaskett and Bobak. Kelowna and district residents are cordially invited to see the display.

Two other visual attractions at this library are either in progress or upcoming. One is the show of watercolors in the board room by Mrs. S. Atkins of Revelstoke.

The other is the renewal of the picture loan which was so well received last year. Collections of local artists and good framed prints will be available to the public tonight at 8 p.m. As before a small amount will be charged for the rental of a picture for a one month period.

Mrs. Foulkes said "rent for the pictures can be applied to the pictures can be applied to desired."

Traders' Association Hits City Council On Store Closing Move

An attack on Kelowna City Council's decision to rescind all store closing hour bylaws has been made in a statement by the Kelowna Retailers' Association.

In view of the public interest in this matter, the full statement is printed below:

"With regard to retail store hours in Kelowna we wonder how many of your readers are aware of the reasons for this deplorable situation. For some years Kelowna retail store hours have been well known to the shopping public and have appeared to be generally satisfactory to shopper and merchant alike. From time to time, however, there have been deviations from the prescribed hours set forth in city bylaws. The deviations have not been numerous, nor have they caused much concern to the majority of merchants who followed the letter of the law and adhered to the hours permitted by that law. It was at times admittedly irksome nevertheless to see the regulations flouted and no steps taken by city council to halt or prevent it.

"We have other bylaws in the City of Kelowna—bylaws to govern parking, traffic, noxious weeds and so on. These bylaws are enforced. But no effort was made at any time to enforce the bylaw governing store hours."

"For some reason beyond our knowledge, the council recently decided to abolish the control council, Staff-Sgt. N. M. Mac-one wonders, if the bylaws governing traffic and parking were suddenly abolished? Naturally complete chaos would result. Which is what we now have insofar as retail store hours are concerned. The shopper is confused and uncertain and so is the merchant.

"Every merchant has his own problems and they are not the same problems. Every individual does not think alike in the matter of store hours. Nevertheless an honest effort was made at a meeting on September 27 to reach unanimity on the vexing question of establishing hours which might best meet the needs of the shopping public, work as little hardship as possible on store personnel, and were best adapted to the varying preferences of various types of retail business. Some of those present did not find themselves in accord with the majority, but in a democratic spirit and in order to achieve a working agreement, they fell in with the majority decision. This decision was for late (9:00 p.m.) closing on Friday all year round, and all day Monday closing, except for the months of July and August when a six-day week would be maintained.

"It should be pointed out that all holders of retail business licenses were asked to attend this meeting and great effort was expended by a committee to advise every firm by written notice and follow-up telephone calls."

Royal Commission Named To Study Magazine Plight

It is evident that the Diefenbaker government is regretting the speed with which it cancelled the tax on advertising in American magazines which publish a "Canadian" edition. When the tax was first imposed by the Liberals, the Conservatives, then in opposition, violently opposed it. So violently, indeed, that when they came into power they had to do something about it and cancelled the tax.

Now, to save their face they cannot reimpose the tax, but they are searching rather frantically for some substitute which can give some protection to the Canadian publishing business. In an attempt to find a solution the government has appointed a royal commission to examine the position of Canadian magazines and periodicals.

The magazine tax, an excise tax of 20 per cent of the gross advertising revenue of Canadian editions of foreign magazines, was imposed by the Liberals in 1957. The Conservatives removed it in June, 1958, but since then representations by the Canadian publishers have apparently convinced the government that unless something is done to stop the growth of the present trend, Canadian magazines will have to go out of business and leave Canadians wholly dependent on U.S. publications.

American magazines can, at a comparatively small additional cost, publish Canadian editions, using substantially the same editorial content as their regular edition but substituting Canadian advertisements for the U.S. ones carried for U.S. consumption.

Canadian publications, faced with a much smaller potential market, find it difficult to compete in size, in quality and in circulation with the American publications. If Canada is to have a domestic press, its publications need some protection from the mass-publications from across the line which thinly disguise themselves as Canadian.

The Saboteurs

But oh, beamish nephew, beware of the day,
If your Snark be a Boojum! For then
You will softly and suddenly vanish away,

And never be met with again!

What this age of rationalization and dull exactitude needs is another Lewis Carroll. It was bad enough when they started protecting children against the mayhem of Mother Goose. Now they are protecting adults against the entrancing and still unknown perils of sea serpents. Over in Massachusetts, a skipper says he harpooned a 1,800-pound sunfish, and the soothsayers have the pedestrian temerity to conclude that it has solved three months of sea serpent stories.

The hypothesis is intolerable and preposterous. In the first place, you see sea monsters, you report them, but nobody in his right mind "solves" them. In the second place, some cad put a tape measure on this sunfish and announced that it was seven feet long. What kind of a way is that to flout the primary rule of monster lore? With the whole Atlantic to fish in, they stopped at seven feet, at "a huge head with fins attached!"

Was nobody around with the gumption to fasten a tail or a sway-back spine on this bulbous egghead.

It isn't the size alone that hurts; it's the principle. If you're going to have a monster, you've got to give it scope. Winnipeg taught us a salutary lesson this summer with its Manigopo, which is 10, 20 or 50 feet long, and swims at 15 miles per hour in Lake Winnipegosis and (apparently simultaneously) at 30 mph in Lake Manitoba—or is it vice versa? The same laudable versatility is vested in British Columbia's Ogopogo and Cadborosaurus and in Scotland's Loch Ness pet. That sort of leeway makes sense; New England's dour realism hits below the belt.

"Allowing for minor contradictions and distortions," temporizes the Massachusetts dispatch, as though trying to make its comparison rational and plausible. The Americans must be slipping. They have long puzzled a cross-grained world by wanting to be liked; now they want to be believed as well, and so they put a humiliating slide-rule of credibility on one of the few romances left to us. Sunfish be blown.—Globe and Mail, Toronto.

OTTAWA DUCK HUNTING SEASON

Brantford Wants To Make Sure Of Telephone Title

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
The western Ontario city of Brantford is fortunate to have the assistance of so distinguished an author as Thomas Costain in its campaign for recognition as the birthplace of the telephone.

In The Chord of Steel (Doubleday) Costain, a native of Brantford, has set out to remove doubts about the city's claim to the title of "Telephone City." But the book in itself wouldn't help greatly if it weren't assured of being widely read. And Costain's success as a best-selling novelist offers this assurance.

"I'm living in Philadelphia when the motion picture life of Alexander Graham Bell was shown," Costain says in the preface. "I took my family, expecting to see familiar shots of Brantford, and was deeply disappointed and indignant that the city was not even mentioned."

First-hand evidence
The author recalls that in 1906, when he was a young reporter on the Brantford Expositor, he interviewed the inventor and quotes him as saying: "I invented the telephone in Brantford in the year 1874."

The statement was qualified some years later when Bell was quoted as saying in a speech, again in Brantford, "the telephone was conceived in Brantford in 1874 and born in Boston in 1876."

Thus, as Costain says, the invention is really a tale of two cities. While Bell spent most of his early years in North America in Boston working on the multiple telegraph, it was on visits to his parents' home in Brantford that the phone was conceived and tested.

And it was on Aug. 10, 1876, that the first long distance call was made when the human voice was transmitted over eight miles of telephone wire from Paris, Ont., to Brantford.

Exciting family
But while Brantford's place in telephone history is the prime consideration in the book, Costain offers more — an exciting Scotland and Canada.

The inventor's grandfather was a resourceful Scottish cobbler turned elocutionist and educationist. Aleck's father, Alexander Melville Bell, was an author, lecturer and elocutionist who invented a system of visible speech that enabled the deaf to learn to talk by reading phonetic symbols. And his mother was an accomplished painter of miniatures.

The Bells were a remarkable family and their inclusion in the book provides an interesting background for the story of the man, who though best known for the invention of the telephone, also designed or developed the first airplane, an X-ray device, a system of air-conditioning, the wax - disc phonograph record, the fastest motorboat of its time, and a method of changing sea water into drinking water.

16TH JALNA
Mazo de la Roche's Morning at Jalna (Macmillan) is the 16th volume in the chronicles of the Whiteoak family, the first of which was Jalna, published in 1927.

Many of the now familiar characters appear in the latest book, set in 1863 during the American Civil War four years after Philip and Adelaide Whiteoak arrived in Canada with their young family.

From Carolina, Curtis and Lucy Sinclair arrive with three Negro servants and the Whites are caught up in the mystery and excitement of the southern visitors. The story is one that Jalna devotees will enjoy.

OTTAWA REPORT

Chain Reaction By Auto Probe

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

When Prime Minister Diefenbaker appointed Professor Vincent Bladen as a one-man Royal Commission, to investigate the Canadian automobile industry's plight, he possibly set off a chain reaction.

This could and should spark a national crusade to restore Canadian sovereignty over our own economy, to send Big Business busting into the confessional box to forego its selfish ways, and to inspire every Canadian with a patriotic mission to match increased wages with increased output.

It is significant that the problem of our automobile industry has proved too complex for our cabinet to handle quickly or on its own. For it presents a perfect laboratory specimen of the virus which is destroying so many of our secondary industries.

During the past 18 months, the Prime Minister has received several representations from labor and management in the automobile industry. So impressed was he by the gravity of the situation that he appointed a cabinet committee to make a preliminary survey.

UNION EXPLAINS

The most constructive submission to the cabinet was presented by George Burt, Canadian director of the United Automobile Workers of America, this summer.

He pointed out that 10,000 workers in Canadian automobile plants have lost their jobs in the past year, and that 25,000 more would be thrown out of work over the next three years if the present trend is allowed to continue.

He said that the percentage of our domestic sales captured by European cars has climbed in the past three years from 7.6 to 23.8, and that "while we are being hit by imports, we are at the same time losing our export market." In 14 years, we have lost three-quarters of our foreign customers.

George Burt urged that a business operating in Canada, even though foreign-owned, should exercise social responsibility here, and should be compelled to publish completed financial statements of its operations here.

This latter suggestion said the prime minister, is "worthy of attention not only in the automobile industry, but in other fields subordinate to foreign control where the head office of an organization is located in a foreign country" — a description which could apply to many labor unions operating in Canada, as well as to many industries to help foreign.

In the interest of Canadian automobile workers, positive action would need to be taken to halt and even to reverse the encroachment of foreign cars, from U.S. as well as from Europe.

But politicians must adjust their antennae keenly to receive every signal, not only those emanating from organized labor. Regardless of the party in power, our government must always consider also the interests of consumers and of capital.

WHAT PUBLIC WANTS

One new car buyer in four in 1959 preferred to purchase a small European car, at an average cost of $2,650, rather than a Big Yank car averaging $3,850. Would in one year compel 114,118 ers at a general election by imposing tariffs or quotas which would in one year compel 114,118 Canadians each to spend on average an additional $1,210 on their car?

And what of our automotive industry? It is dominated by subsidiaries of the "Big Three" of the U.S.A., General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, and hence controlled by foreign investors. How much should a Canadian government bestial itself to help foreigners to make greater profits off the back of Canadians?

In microcosm the problem of our automobile industry today reflects the serious malaise of much of our manufacturing complex. Our generous international trade policies, crystallized in our adherence to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, were designed to assist war-torn Europe to regain its economic viability.

Our unrestricted welcome to foreign equity investment was intended to meet the needs of our development era. Both those policies are now outmoded by changed circumstances, and call for far-sighted reappraisal.

Pakistan And India 'Stable'

By RUKMINI DEVI

Canadian Press Correspondent

BOMBAY (CP)—Indian observers believe the political and economic stability of the East Asia region has been greatly strengthened by the recent talks between Prime Minister Nehru and President Ayub Khan of Pakistan.

Newspaper commentators in the two countries are talking of a new and happier phase in India-Pakistan relations. The conclusion of the agreement on the sharing of the Indus River basin waters and the great welcome accorded by Pakistanis to Nehru has impressed Indians greatly.

The Indian prime minister has also made a great impact on Pakistani leaders and the common people, according to reports from the Pakistani capital.

Indians are looking forward to President Ayub Khan's return visit to New Delhi. Present indications are that he will visit India early next year.

The commentators have noted that the most significant thing about the Nehru-Ayub talks on the Kashmir problem has been that they did not end in immediate disappointment as in the case of previous such talks.

The finance ministers of the two countries are expected to meet in November to discuss outstanding financial issues. The division of assets and liabilities flowing from the partition of the subcontinent 13 years ago is yet to be settled.

Engineers from the two countries will shortly meet to discuss a solution on common eastern rivers.

Need For Action Stressed To Defeat Indian Poverty

By ARCH MacKENZIE

Canadian Press Staff Writer

STOUCHE LOOKOUT, Ont. (CP)

Indian poverty in northwestern Ontario is a fact as hard as the surrounding Precambrian Shield. "Something more will have to be done for some of these more northern bands," says Gifford (Giff) Swartman, 62-year-old former bush pilot who is Indian affairs superintendent of a huge agency covering hundreds of square miles from the CNR's main line on the Pacific coast to Fort Severn on Hudson Bay, 450 miles northeast of here.

Among 1,000,000 lakes, mosses-black in the shadows of yellow-green fungus of forest, Cree and Ojibway exist only a few years away from the teepee.

Furs in winter, fish in summer and government relief forestal starvation.

ALWAYS POOR

Mr. Swartman has some 4,000 Indians in his agency and up to March 31 this year's relief bill was $33,408.

Most bands are Cree, members of the tribe running from northern Quebec down into the Prairies where they had arrived by the late 18th century in an armed invasion. Conflict and starvation ended the march.

Starvation was never far away even when moose, caribou and bear were more abundant. Beaver is the key fur catch and disease has stopped trapping in some areas despite transplanting beavers in the last decade.

Fur prices dip as fashion dictates—a whim expressed over the counters of Hudson's Bay Company and other trading posts in the amounts of flour, lard and tea that the trapper can buy for his catch.

Fishing is the sole alternative Mr. Swartman can push on a lake scale aside from incidental guiding, limited timber and mining work.

Production target for all agency fisheries next year is 1,000,000 pounds of pickerel, sturgeon, whitefish and lake trout, delivered by express as far away as Winnipeg, Toronto or Montreal. Some Indians may earn $27 or more a day in bursts.

But Mr. Swartman says competition is tough, tightened by high air- and rail-transport costs. Lake trout fishing ended this year when the price dropped to 24 cents a pound. Trout taken from Great Slave Lake in the Northwest Territories noses out northwestern Ontario trout for the Winnipeg market.

Mr. Swartman is an example of the seasoned Indian affairs field worker at grips with some sticky facts of life and chafing at the mounting paper work. He studied mining at Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., where he started at hockey and football, and had a long flying career stretching back to the First World War. In 1939 he became Indian superintendent of a region far bigger than the four Atlantic provinces.

The aircraft is his inspection vehicle. It's required for calling at most of the five nursing stations or 18 schools — nine of which are seasonal. An 80-bed hospital is located here.

Plotting a trip, he casts a professional eye at the weather map before chartering a light float plane for a northward run that may cover more than 500 miles.

Bound for Cat Lake next morning, the pilot Mr. Swartman dropped his pilot's licence in 1939 — lands for a quick snack with a fisherman to ride out an electrical storm. Once at Cat Lake, the call is brief.

John Prince, 23, of Calgary, Anglican student minister in the summer, orders recess and his 20 pupils charge the landing dock to greet the plane. Mr. Swartman ascertains what children of migrant parents are — or are not — attending the three-month school.

SCHOOLING IS PROBLEM
Whereas in southern Ontario the emphasis is on providing more integrated schooling for Indian students, here in northwestern Ontario the struggle is of schooling of any kind for children of migrant parents.

Besides the Cat Lake Indian school, the only other visible building is a rough church, brilliant scarlet inside, with fresh railroaders from the leaky roof glistening on the benches. On the altar, in white angular Cree syllables, are the words "Holy, Holy, Holy."

The next stop is Round Lake, 200 miles north of Sioux Lookout, where a crowd of about 35 lounges in front of the white churches and clusters of the Hudson's Bay Company post. Most are fishermen.

Back of the waterfront post are sturdy log dwellings — some painted — put up by the government for the Indians at about $2,000 each. Nearby, a portable sawmill whines as it turns out rough lumber for the houses. Powered by an old automobile engine, it is ferried by air around the reservations.

COMPETE FOR SOULS
Mr. Swartman has a local problem here involving a missionary of an evangelical church — new to the North in the wake of the long-established Roman Catholics and Anglicans, but more numerous every year. The case indicates something of the confusion created in the Indian mind by what has been called the unending northern competition for souls.

Peter West, Ottawa teacher handling the seasonal school at Round Lake for two months, has messaged Mr. Swartman that the fundamentalist missionary was forbidding the Indians to square dance. He has listed 30 reasons why they should not, says Mr. West, including one reading: "Would you like to die dancing?"

Mr. West contends the reasons are a sheer play on Indian superstition — anthropologists say the woodland Cree were perhaps the most superstitious of Canadian Indians. He says that a now-departed missionary of the same faith — and its name isn't cited — wrote a letter back to an Indian expressing the wish that he die unless he mended his ways.

MILK OR CHILDREN
Mr. Swartman, who speaks both tongue — twisting Ojibway and Cree, has blunt advice for Chief Noah Benson. Don't pay any attention to the proposed square-dancing ban. The government encourages such recreation. His final stop is Trout Lake, where dwindling catches have halted pickerel fishing and the men are organizing for sturgeon in the rivers.

Mumbling Cree greetings, Mr. Swartman shakes hands with the men, checks solidly-built women under the chin, calls briefly off the pretty nursing sister and confers with Anglican Bishop H. M. E. Hiven of Keewatin diocese, another busy traveller through a large territory.

He drops in at the school to watch Indian moppets pausing over summer lessons for a cup of milk and vitaminized biscuit, Indian health service supplies designed to bolster diets which may feature tea, bannock and fish or just tea and bannock in winter.

ELECTRICITY IS RESPONSIBLE

Red China's Tricycle Taxi Gets A Complete New Lease On Life

By RONALD FAQUHAR
SHENYANG (Reuters) — Electric motors, powered by three 12-volt batteries, now drive hundreds of these once pedalled vehicles through the crowded streets of Shenyang (Mukden), the busy industrial city in the northeastern region formerly known as Manchuria. This new source of power enables the pedicabs to carry loads of up to about 1,100 pounds on flat wooden platforms fitted behind the saddle—a much bigger load than one pedalling driver can haul. The batteries can keep the motor running for eight hours. Then they have to be changed and recharged.

PART OF "GREAT LEAP"

The pedicab, sometimes called a trishaw, was originally mainly a passenger-carrying vehicle—half-bicycle and half-rickshaw. But since China started the economic "great leap forward" in 1958 aimed at catching up as soon as possible with the modern world, more and more pedicabs have been converted to carry goods. The increasing demands of rapidly expanding industry for raw materials and industrial goods and the need to keep towns supplied with food and daily necessities is straining China's limited transport system to the limits. New highways and railways are under construction and China has its own automobile manufacturing plant at Changchun, also in the northeast, where five-ton trucks are produced. All these are helping to ease the burden. But the final solution is still a long way off. For the present, the emphasis is on utilizing fully all forms of transport, no matter how simple and primitive.

PROGRESS SLOW

It is common to see in a factory or on a city street gangs of 10 or more perspiring men—and sometimes women—with ropes looped round their shoulders, hauling a cart laden with heavy machinery, timber, earthenware pipes, or iron and steel rods. In one small town in Honan province, in north-central China, I watched scores of men dragging handcarts laden with coke and iron ore across a sun-scoured plain to a battery of small blast furnaces a mile or more away. There must have been at least 100 of them trekking all day back and forth in two single columns, all wearing conical-shaped straw hats, some stripped to the waist. They stopped only for a break at midday, when the blazing summer sun was at its fiercest. In the countryside, too, where the Chinese are aiming at substantially mechanizing agriculture by 1969, the primitive carrying-pole is still widely used. This is a long, slim pole, carried on the shoulder, with loads suspended from either end. Roads in the countryside are primitive and sometimes almost non-existent.

Only a few types of mammals, including man and apes, can see things in color.

Arab States In Dilemma Over Russian Oil Fields

CAIRO (AP)—A vast oil field peddling low-priced oil, the Soviet Union has already practically taken the Finnish market and has 20 per cent of the important Italian market. Sweden 17 for the second Arab League oil from Russia, and Germany five to seven per cent. Low Russian prices have created a crisis for Western companies in India, where the government proposed to buy their oil up they are apt to lose Soviet oil and have it refined by Western companies. Cuba now is almost totally dependent on the Soviet Union for petroleum. And about half of Egypt's imports come from Russia. In 1957, a meeting in Baghdad, representatives of Venezuela, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Iran, and Kuwait proposed prorating their oil production in the hope of keeping prices up. These five countries produce more than a third of free world oil. Arabs are arguing that Western companies should be willing to give up minor markets here and there if necessary rather than cut prices. At a recent meeting in Baghdad, representatives of Venezuela, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Iran, and Kuwait proposed prorating their oil production in the hope of keeping prices up. These five countries produce more than a third of free world oil.

This Driver Was Too Drunk To Be Found Guilty

LONDON (CP) — After being convicted of driving under the influence of drink, a truck driver appealed his sentence on the ground he was far too drunk to be found guilty. He won his appeal. "We are greatly reluctant to have reached this conclusion," said Judge Cyril Harvey. "We believe that this is about as unmeritorious a case as it is possible to imagine." Norman Bentley, 20, was arrested after police found him in charge of a truck in front of a pub. He wasn't actually driving the vehicle at the time. He was found guilty and fined £35 and had his licence suspended for three years. In upholding Bentley's appeal, Judge Harvey said: "We think he is entitled to say that he was so inebriated that there was absolutely no likelihood of him driving until he had recovered." One tree can make 1,000,000 wooden matches, but one match can destroy 1,000,000 trees.

Farm Wages Up

OTTAWA (CP) — Farm wages in Canada are up this year. The bureau of statistics reported today that average annual wage of male farm help at Aug. 15 was $1,330 with board provided, compared with $1,330 at the same date last year. The average for Western Canada was up to $1,420 from $1,400 while for Eastern Canada the average was $1,310 compared with $1,270 a year earlier. The national average without board advanced to $1,810 from $1,790, while the Western average for no-board farm pay was $1,925 compared with $1,853 a year earlier.

U.N. Education Chief In Congo Optimistic

LEOPOLDVILLE (CP) — Edmond Sylva, UN policy-maker on education in the Congo, says he is not counting on French-Congolese for a large supply of teachers. "And I'm sorry this is so," the Haiti-born scholar-diplomat said in an interview. He doubts there will be much response in Canada to UNESCO's appeal for French-speaking teachers to come to the Congo. The reasons he gave for his belief were that the distance of more than 6,000 miles between Canada and the Congo may discourage some from coming here and, secondly, the need for secondary school teachers in Quebec may be greater than the supply.

BEATINGS NOT A FACTOR

Sylva, former dean of law and rector at the University of Haiti and his country's former permanent representative at the UN, was asked whether he thought Canadian teachers might stay away because of the unprovoked beatings Congolese soldiers gave Canadian signalmen last August. "There are risks," he said. "I am optimistic. I do not believe there will be serious troubles as long as the UN forces are here." He did not believe the bitter feeling shown by the Congolese toward their former Belgian rulers in last July's disturbances was a general, long-lasting feeling. The Belgian teachers who were here last year apparently held the same belief. Although UNESCO had not attempted to recruit teachers in Belgium, it is known that at least a third of those here last year were "interested" in returning, provided they received guarantees for their safety.

FACE DIFFICULT TASK

UNESCO and Sylva face a tremendous task in finding some 1,500 teachers and school administrators to launch a $12,000,000 school program agreed to in principle with the Congo government. At the moment thousands of young Congolese are waiting for schools to reopen. There are no statistics for this year but it is believed only a small percentage of last year's 1,650,000 grade-school pupils and 60,000 secondary-school students are back in school. How long the educational crisis will continue depends on when a draft agreement establishing pay scales, working conditions and

Yoga And Yogurt Make Fine Team, Says Actress Judith Evelyn

By KAYE ROWE
of the Brandon Sun

Her name on a Broadway theatre marquee again this summer, Judith Evelyn of Moose Jaw, Sask., Winnipeg, Toronto, New York, Hollywood and London relaxed in the star's dressing room between matinee and evening performances.

She was playing six weeks of summer replacement for Jessica Tandy in the lead role of the Critics' Award play, Five Finger Exercise.

Two decades had passed since last we saw our former associate in the University of Manitoba honors English class. Judith had shone with rare luminosity among the student body, a being extraordinarily gifted. A well-spring of energy, she lived by a code of rigid self-discipline.

At U. of M. Judith Evelyn romped through fifth year, took extra courses in German, whipped up a thesis on 19th century dramatist Grillparzer to finish the term with both a BA and MA. Moreover, in mid-term she starred in the Dramatic Society production of Pygmalion.

A creature of widely diverse skills, she is remembered kneeling on the apartment floor to complete a garnet velvet wrap for graduation dance the next evening. She dashed off pop tunes on the piano, singing the lyrics in French and German, hustled us off to catch the 5 o'clock showing of Garbo and Shearer movies. Bea and friends clustered about the magnetic personality.

IRELAND'S TINKER KING STAYING ON

BALLINASLOE, Ireland (AP) — The tinker king of Ireland, who reigns by the divine right of his two fearsome fists, has changed his mind about giving up his throne.

His majesty Larry Ward, possibly the world's most mangled monarch, has worn his tinker's crown for 15 years. He won it in a memorable shenanigan during which he suffered three broken ribs, two black eyes and two broken front teeth.

After the 80-minute battle, King Larry gasped out his first royal proclamation:

"The strength of me fists made me king. With me fists I'll keep me title."

Since then the tinker king has held court in a tent. He moves around his domain in a horse and cart, mending kettles and pans as he goes.

More than 20 pretenders have disputed King Larry's right to the throne. Each has got a right royal drubbing.

Larry recently celebrated his 42nd birthday and decided he had reached an age when discretion is the better part of valor. He passed the word among his courtiers that it was time another king was chosen.

From every emerald corner of Ireland this week the tinkers converged on Ballinasloe green, traditional setting for the tinker coronation.

Contenders for king began limbering up.

But Ward decided to stay on as king for another year.

Small Industries Shown How To Increase Output

OTTAWA (CP)—A question to small manufacturers: Do you want to increase your production by 10 per cent or more with the same work force?

Chances are that you can, says one government organization here. It is setting out to show the way to small industries.

Efficiency increases of 10 to 20 per cent can be expected for firms adopting the new techniques of the production engineer, says Ralph E. McBurney, a retired air vice-marshal who heads Technical Information Services.

TIS, a versatile offshoot of the National Research Council, has been in existence for 15 years, its main task being to solve a bewildering array of technical and engineering problems for Canadian manufacturers and others.

MANY QUESTIONS

Some typical queries: Is propane better than gasoline for city buses? How do you build a suction dredge? What's the best way of setting knots in nylon fish nets? How does steel perform at certain heats and pressures?

One Vancouver man, who had rented his house for six months to a family with 25 cats, appealed: "Can you tell me how to deodorize the place?"

The 10 engineers here, together with provincial research councils and foundations in six provinces, handled 11,000 queries last year.

Federal annual provincial experts work in co-operation. No charge is made. Some 46,000 prepared answers are on file here.

In recent years, however, a new type of question has been cropping up: How can I increase my plant's efficiency? What's the best layout for my machines? How can my employees work more effectively?

So TIS sent some men to England and Europe to delve into the new field of industrial engineering. Educational courses for junior executives and foremen were launched by the Alberta and Saskatchewan research councils. Main emphasis is on small firms.

GREAT RESPONSE

"I got a tremendous response," says Mr. McBurney, 54-year-old veteran of 28 years in the RCAF.

"There have been terrific strides in this field in Europe in the last 10 years. We in Canada, especially in small industry, can do far more than we have been doing to improve efficiency."

A case in point, he said, was a young engineer, owner of a small electric transformer winding shop, who attended the Alberta course. He put new methods into practice as he learned them.

"When the six-week course ended, he had more than doubled production in his shop."

Mr. McBurney said production engineers in England guarantee 10-per-cent gain in efficiency in any factory applying their techniques for the first time.

Normally, the improvement is 10 to 20 per cent, he said. But gains of 20 to 40 per cent are not uncommon.

BASIC METHOD

A basic tool is the flow process chart. This means, simply, charting the progress of materials through a factory, timing each manufacturing step, finding where the flow is delayed, getting down to minute operating details, and then analysing each step to see whether it can be improved—or whether it's necessary at all.

"A lot of things done in a factory have grown up without anyone stopping to figure out why they're done," Mr. McBurney said.

Mr. McBurney became head of TIS early this year, adding another page to a varied career.

An electrical engineer, he joined the RCAF in 1924, flew in its northern forest fire service from 1934 to 1942 was the RCAF's first director of telecommunications. After war time service overseas with Canadian Bomber Group, he was on the Air Materiel Command and was its senior man for four years until his retirement in 1952.

NEW ENVOY

Dr. Thomas Kierman, new ambassador to the United States from Ireland, arrives at White House in Washington to present his credentials to President Nixon. He is accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Kierman. (AP Wirephoto).

Yoga and yogurt make a team, she said. "I took yoga lessons in California. Every day I try to catch 20 minutes for the exercise. It's the breathing that's so important. Believe it or not, I haven't had any more sinus trouble," she said referring to a condition which has plagued her since college days.

She spoke of her most recent cinema adventure. The Tinker. "Vincent and I wrapped it up in 11 days. Marvellous fun—a science fiction thing aimed at teenage audiences."

She referred to Vincent Price.

MAGNETIC PERSONALITY

A creature of widely diverse skills, she is remembered kneeling on the apartment floor to complete a garnet velvet wrap for graduation dance the next evening.

She dashed off pop tunes on the piano, singing the lyrics in French and German, hustled us off to catch the 5 o'clock showing of Garbo and Shearer movies. Bea and friends clustered about the magnetic personality.

Now here she was in New York, clad in a thin Oriental dressing gown, her bare feet in bead-embroidered slippers. The only change in the Judith Evelyn we knew was a curious calm. After two hours on stage carrying the role of an emotionally blind wife and mother, energies were carefully husbanded for the inexorable 8:40 curtain.

Russet-brown hair polished with vitality and the expressive face dominated by large brown eyes belied the age of the actress who was born in Seneca, N.D., 47 years ago and moved to Moose Jaw with her family when she was a year old.

Curious as the fuel used to run the dynamo, we asked about diet. After 20 years on stage, TV and movies (Rear Window, The Egyptian, Hilda Crane) she still wears a size 10 provided it's long in the waist and still maintains youthful curve to cheek and chin-line.

YEAST AT BREAKFAST

"Too long I lived on nerves but that's a blind alley," she said. "Two years ago a doctor introduced me to the Adele Davis book on nutrition, food chemistry, restoring the needs of the body. Never felt better; no minor ailments, and all the energy you need for the acting game."

Judith has a pint glass of fortified milk blended with brewer's yeast and blackstrap molasses plus liver or hamburger rolled in wheat germ for breakfast.

Luncheon consists of a seafood salad, preferably fresh shrimp or lobster, or cottage cheese or yogurt. Fresh fruit or non-sweetened juices balance each meal.

Six o'clock supper appeared carried by her maid in a small paper bag. It was a pint of plain yogurt and a carton of fruit juice.

Yoga and yogurt make a team, she said. "I took yoga lessons in California. Every day I try to catch 20 minutes for the exercise. It's the breathing that's so important. Believe it or not, I haven't had any more sinus trouble," she said referring to a condition which has plagued her since college days.

Daughter Wed On Parents' Silver Wedding Anniversary

White and ancient gladioli decorated Saint Edward the Confessor Anglican Church in Oliver on September 21 at 11:30 a.m. when Deirdre Rita Lamb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Austin Lamb of Okanagan Falls, became the bride of Ian William Shaw Ross of Kelowna, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ross of Cordova Bay. The Reverend C. Hilary Butler officiated, and music was provided by the choir of Saint Edward's Church, accompanied by Miss Margaret Boone of Oliver.

The bride chose the date of her parents' silver wedding anniversary for her marriage. Given in marriage by her father she was radiant in a full length gown of white organza over satin. The fitted bodice and wide flowing skirt were appliqued with sequins and lace, and featured an Elizabethan neckline and long lily point sleeves. Her headpiece, a matching sequin crown, held a fingertip net well studded with pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, apricot gladioli and blue forget-me-nots arranged in a shower effect. For "something old, something borrowed" she carried a white lace handkerchief of her mother's.

The matron and maid of honor were Mrs. Jean Whytaker and Miss Linda Ross, sisters of the groom from Cordova Bay, who wore short turquoise sheer dresses over white patterned taffeta, with matching bands of velvet ribbon in their hair, and carried shallow baskets of apricot colored gladioli. The bridesmaids Miss Margaret Briscall of Vancouver, and Miss Christine Hunt of Oliver, wore similar dresses of apricot sheer over white patterned taffeta, matching headpieces and carried baskets of white gladioli. Miss Glenda Lamb, young sister of the bride, was flower girl. She was dressed in Alice in Wonderland style in three quarter length stiff white lace over taffeta, and carried a small basket of apricot gladioli. Miss Linda Ross was the small ring bearer.

The best man was Mr. Nigel Lamb, brother of the bride, from Okanagan Falls, and the ushers were Mr. Dennis Whytaker, brother-in-law of the groom from Victoria, Mr. John Briscall of Oliver, and David Sparrow, CHBC-TV, Kelowna, and Mr. Edward Hoffman of Kelowna.

The reception was held on the lawn of the home of the bride's parents. The mother of the bride received in a suit of navy blue panting, with a navy blue hat and accessories, complemented by a corsage of white carnations, while the groom's mother chose a beige lace dress embossed with brown, a small brown feather hat with a veil and wore a corsage of white carnations. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Don Corbishley of Oliver and was responded to by the groom, and the toast to the bridesmaids was proposed by the best man, Mr. Leslie Amor of Oliver acted as master of ceremonies, and a number of telegrams were read from relatives in England and Scotland and friends in various parts of Canada.

MR. AND MRS. IAN WILLIAM SHAW ROSS

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. George Ross of Cordova Bay, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Whytaker, Mr.

and Mrs. F. Simmonds, Mr. and Mrs. F. Howland, Mrs. K. Genn, Mr. C. Conlan and Mrs. J. Chapman, all of Victoria; Mrs. B. Dyer, of Duncan; Mrs. J. Watkins of Port Coquitlam; Mr. P. Mugford, Miss P. Cundy of Kelowna. They were also honored by the presence of the Right Reverend F. Stanford, Bishop of the Cariboo (retired) and Mrs. Stanford, and the Reverend and Mrs. E. Hilary Butler.

Before leaving on her honeymoon to Lake Chelan and Spokane, the bride changed to a dress of deep lilac color with matching jacket, topped by a hat of pale lilac net over deep lilac velvet and pale lilac accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Ross will reside at 2337 Abbott Street, Kelowna.

AROUND the TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. Jones, Casa Loma, are leaving today for Vancouver where they will spend a few days as guests day evenings together, and at the same time keep up with the latest in ballroom dancing.

If you are interested in joining you may phone Anne or John Charlton at Popular 2-4884 for further information.

Dr. and Mrs. Wm. S. Cave, Taylor Crescent, have left for San Francisco to attend the Convention of the American College of Surgeons.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Maile are driving to the Coast to attend the wedding of Mrs. Maile's nephew, Mr. Joseph Norwick to Miss Margaret Block, of Vancouver.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chapman, Lawrence Avenue, were Mr. and Mrs. A. Thompson Sr. of Vancouver and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Thompson of West Vancouver. Before returning home the guests entertained at a dinner party at the Eldorado Arms in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Chapman.

Co-hostesses at a tea for the Senior High School teachers and teachers' wives, last Thursday were Mrs. C. A. Bruce and Mrs. M. Barwick. The tea was held at the home of Mrs. Bruce on Leon Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Cave March of Edmonton, Alberta, have been enjoying a holiday in Kelowna.

Guests of Mrs. L. Goble, Abbott St., are her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. Martin from Connah's Quay, Chester, England. Leaving England by air on Tuesday they arrived in Penticton Wednesday afternoon and will spend the next two weeks visiting Mrs. Goble. Mr. Martin had not seen his sister for forty-seven years, and they have been looking forward with delight to this reunion.

The Okanagan Valley Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals held its annual meeting on Sunday afternoon at Vernon, and ten members from Kelowna were present. The guest speaker was the Rt. Reverend Bishop A. H. Scoville, who gave an inspiring and interesting speech which was greatly appreciated.

Of interest to people who enjoy ballroom dancing for dancing's sake is the formation, by a group of enthusiasts, of the "Better Dancing Club." Half a dozen couples now meet every Saturday evening from nine to midnight, and they are anxious to enlarge the group.

It is not necessary to join by couples, single members are also welcome, but it is necessary to know the basic dance steps. This is a non-profit club, but they do intend to have instruction from time to time when the members feel the need of it. The main idea however is to have a congenial group who will enjoy their Saturday evenings together, and at the same time keep up with the latest in ballroom dancing.

If you are interested in joining you may phone Anne or John Charlton at Popular 2-4884 for further information.

OKANAGAN MISSION

Guests recently registered at the Eldorado Arms Hotel have been: Miss E. E. G. Codd, Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. William Greenlees, and Mr. James Greenlees, Kilmscolm, Scotland.

L.A. TO CANADIAN LEGION

The October meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, Branch 69, was held at the home of Mrs. Howard Sismey, on Monday evening, to accommodate the wives of Westbank members of the Peachland Branch which holds its monthly meeting on the first Monday of the month.

Two delegates attended the 24th annual meeting of the South Okanagan and Similkameen District Council, held in Salmon River on Saturday evening. Mrs. A. Bealby, official delegate, brought back an interesting report of the annuals deliberations. Pertinent matters were thoroughly discussed, following the report.

A membership drive is under way and a prospective member is invited to attend the November meeting which will be held on the first Monday of the month, to coincide with that of the Branch, and will again be held at the home of Mrs. Sismey.

Low Calorie Jam Will Help You Enjoy That Dull Diet

SUMMERLAND, B.C. (CP)—If you're avoiding jam because you are on a diet, here's good news from the federal agriculture department.

At the department's laboratory here low-calorie spreads

WIFE PRESERVERS

If you have more closet than drawer space, store folding clothes in plastic boxes in the closets. They are neat, dust-proof and transparent for easy identification.

The researchers say this results from development of substitute canning agents. Among them are a jelling agent (low methoxyl pectin) and non-nutritive sweeteners (saccharin and calcium and sodium cyclamate).

These permit fresh fruits to be made into jam-like preserves without adding sugar. The result is spreads containing less than one-sixth the calories of ordinary jam.

SMALL CONTAINERS
However, like all products low in sugar, these preserves are susceptible to mould and spoilage and should be put up in small containers. After opening, they should be kept refrigerated.

Fruits may be used as an important element of reducing diets and in diets of people who are not normally active. The high water content of fruit makes it palatable and refreshing.

For reducing diets there is no need to can fruits in water. Cyclamate sweeteners enhance good fruit flavor without adding calories. Adding a small amount of a thickening agent such as carbomethyl-cellulose or pectin makes the syrup almost indistinguishable from sugar syrup.

"What, no Alpha!"

Always keep a good supply of ALPHA on hand. Enjoy the natural fresh milk flavor.

Comes October and the town pace quickens. We pack away our pretty summer duds and choose a dress or a costume which, while lightweight, has an urban, urbane air about it. The handsome suit shown here, by Rona, is a taupe wool and silk print. The frock has a peg-topped skirt and a bodice of the printed silk in beige-taupe tone, with self belt. The collarless, cropped jacket permits the high-rising turtle neck of the dress bodice to add a decorative touch to the jacket neckline.

Study Brings Out Facts On Our Mental Health

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph.D.

People are growing more and more aware of the prevalence of mental illness and of the need to cultivate mental health.

Though most are wont to think of mental sickness as related chiefly to adults, there's a growing awareness that children gain or lose in mental health according to the degree of mental health in their parents and other adults with whom they live and mingle.

STARTS IN INFANCY

Also, we are beginning to realize that mental health in the adult, like physical health, is related to mental health in infancy, childhood and adulthood.

(Mrs. Myers and I have written "A Pledge to Mental Health" which everyone may have free by sending a self-addressed, U.S. stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.)

MENTAL HEALTH SURVEY

You may have been reading in your newspaper a report of a significant investigation into the mental health of the American public by a commission authorized by Congress and carried out by the Survey Research Centre of the University of Michigan. The study was based on private interviews with 2,460 men and women chosen at random throughout the nation. The report, written by Gerald Gurin, Joseph Veroff and Sheila Field of the University of Michigan, has been published as "Americans View Their Mental Health", by Basic Books, Inc. The report covers the following:

How happy Americans are and what makes them happy or unhappy; what makes people worry and how some worrying can be healthy; how family problems differ by occupational groups; meaning of nervous breakdowns; and why people have them; where and why people seek help—clergymen, doctors, professional (psychiatrists, psychologists, marriage counsellors) and where mental health is headed.

SOME HIGH SPOTS

Only one in ten admit they are "not too happy". More than half of those interviewed mentioned marriage, children of family relationships as a source of happiness. Almost half named money and related material matters as a cause for worry.

Men who hold clerical jobs and wives of unskilled workers are the most discontented and unhappy groups of American families. One out of every five adults has at some time in his life felt close to a "nervous breakdown."

WHERE DO THEY TURN?

Out of every ten persons who seek help on mental health problems, four go to a clergyman, three to a doctor and only three to a mental health "professional." The need for more professionals is stressed.

"Jobs and Futures in Mental Health Work" by Elizabeth Ogg may be had from Public Affairs Pamphlets, 22 East 38th Street, New York 16, N.Y., for 25 cents.

SWINGING PARTNERS

By M.J.L.

Square dancers had a gala weekend, with the Kal Squares Party Nite in Vernon Friday, to get their season well under way. Saturday night the Kelowna Wagon Wheelers started their season with a successful party in the Centennial Hall. Ray Fredrickson of Summerland was MC and a delicious buffet supper was provided by the hosts. On the same night in Penticton the Promenaders hosted a lively party in the Masonic Hall. Elsie Barritt was the MC and there were seven guest callers. Pumpkin pie a la mode was the delicious dessert at this party.

Saturday, Oct. 8, we will again have two wonderful dances to choose from and it makes us wish we could be in two places at once. The Westside Squares will host their first party night of the season in the Community Hall in Westbank. Bill French is the MC and a sack lunch, please.

In the KP Hall in Penticton, Saturday, Oct. 8, the Wheel 'N' Stars will host their first party night of the season. Lloyd Fairweather of Oliver is the MC and guest callers are invited. While we are in Penticton, a reminder to our friends in the south of the intermediate classes to commence in the school cafeteria Thursday, Oct. 6. Bob Emerson of Omak is the instructor and these classes are sponsored by both clubs in Penticton.

Monday, Oct. 10, Thanksgiving Day, Les Boyer will MC a Family Round Dance Party in the Scout Hall in Vernon. You are invited to bring the family and a pot luck supper. Dancing starts at 3 p.m. and will continue after supper until about 8 or 9 p.m. This will be a review of rounds and of course there will be the odd squares too.

Glancing to next week — The only one on the list so far is the Pairs and Squares first party night of the season in the Youth Centre Hall in Summerland. Bob Emerson of Omak is the caller. Buffet lunch will be provided. Details are now complete for the pre-teens classes in Summerland. A free party will be held in the Youth Centre Hall for Grades 5, 6 and 7 plus the youngsters who completed the class last spring, on Saturday, Oct. 22 at 1:15 p.m. These classes are sponsored by the Summerland Pairs and Squares and Chuck Inglis is the instructor. Happy square dancing.

Many Changes Face Veteran Coach Agar

By JOHN MATTERS
Canadian Press Staff Writer
VICTORIA (CP)—George Agar, a man with a reputation for playing hockey the tough, old-fashioned way, says he realizes there will be many challenges in his first year as coach of Victoria Cougars of the Western Hockey League.

Cougars, who tied with Edmonton Flyers for third place last season, lost several star performers when coach Hal Laycoe left for similar jobs with Portland Buckaroos, a new WHL entry, who had lent the men to Cougars last season while waiting for their new home rink.

Missing from last year's solid outfit are two defencemen and six forwards, including the club's top scorers. The eight players got 156 goals.

But Agar, 41, is expected to make good use of the talent he is bringing back from a two-week training camp at his home town of Vernon.

In his seven seasons as coach, manager and player with Vernon Canadians of the Okanagan Senior Hockey League, he got the team into the playoffs everytime winning the league title five times and the Allan Cup in 1956.

AT HOME OCT. 14
Cougars will warm up with exhibition tussles at Pentlagon, Vernon, Kelowna, Mendenhall, Merritt and Nanaimo before hitting home ice in their WHL season opener Oct. 14 against Seattle Totems.

Agar often has said he likes to start building a club with a good goal tender and a good defence line.

"It doesn't matter how good your forwards are, they can't afford to take chances unless they have confidence in the guys behind the blue line."

In goal will be Marcel Pelletier, who has a starry 2.92 goals-against average during his seven seasons in the WHL. Coming back on defence is Jim Hay and big Hugh Currie, acquired from Calgary Stampedeers.

Possible additions to the blue line corps are Pete Wright, with Cougars last year, and Wayne League teams meet in Montreal in their opening game.

A club spokesman said Wednesday Duff has not signed his 1960-61 contract.

The spokesman also said George (Punch) Inlach, Leafs' manager-coach, has suspended veteran left winger Johnny Wilson for refusing to report to Leafs' American Hockey League farm club at Rochester.

Centre Larry Regan, to have been assigned to Rochester, will remain with Leafs for the time being, the spokesman said. Regan has been waived on by other NHL clubs.

Duff Fails To Sign Contract

TORONTO (CP)—Leftwinger Dick Duff of Toronto Maple Leafs will not be in the lineup tonight against Montreal Canadiens when the two National Hockey League teams meet in Montreal in their opening game.

A club spokesman said Wednesday Duff has not signed his 1960-61 contract.

The spokesman also said George (Punch) Inlach, Leafs' manager-coach, has suspended veteran left winger Johnny Wilson for refusing to report to Leafs' American Hockey League farm club at Rochester.

Centre Larry Regan, to have been assigned to Rochester, will remain with Leafs for the time being, the spokesman said. Regan has been waived on by other NHL clubs.

World Series Sidelights

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh fans didn't get worked up Wednesday after the Pirates beat New York Yankees 6-4 in the world series opener. "I've seen livelier Sunday nights," a policeman said.

SERIES BRINGS COLDS
PITTSBURGH (AP)—A wave of "colds" hit Pittsburgh school children Wednesday for the opening of the world series. One school had 363 students absent, another 172, and a third 126.

YOGI BOASTS RECORD
By getting a single in the second, Yogi Berra extended his series record for most hits to 62. The veteran Yankee catcher also extended his marks for most games played to 62 and most time at bat to 227. Berra has a series average of .267.

13 HITS FOR YANKS
The Yankees got no more than 12 hits in any game of their season—end 15—game winning streak. They got 13 hits Wednesday and lost.

BUCS WIN SAME WAY
The Pirates' last series victory was also by a two-run margin, 9-7 over the Washington Senators in the seventh and deciding game of 1925.

ONLY TWO THEFTS
The Pirates, who stole two bases Wednesday, had a total of only two thefts in their final 35 games of the regular campaign. Their season aggregate was 34, three less than the Yanks.

ONE SHORT OF MARK
The stolen bases by Bill Virdon and Bob Skinner in the first left Pittsburgh one short of the record for a single inning held by five clubs. The White Sox of 1917 were the last to steal three.

LAST 6-4 SCORE
The last time there was a 6-4 score in the series was in 1949 when the Yanks beat the Dodgers in the fourth game.

4TH FOR ELSTON
Elston Howard's homer was his fourth in series play. The Yankee catcher also hit one in 1955, 1956 and 1957. He has an average of .246 with 15 hits in 61 tries.

NO HOMERS SINCE AUG.
Jim Coates of the Yankees, who was tagged for Bill Mazeroski's fourth-inning home run, had not allowed a homer since Aug. 3 when Norm Cash of Detroit belted him for one. The span covered 38 innings.

Casey Agrees

Viridon's Catch Was Key Play
By GIB STALEY
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Bill Viridon, the flashy centre fielder of Pittsburgh Pirates, says he has made better catches than the one which robbed Yogi Berra of an extra base hit in the fourth inning of Wednesday's world series game.

"Yes, I have made better catches but none which gave me a greater thrill," Viridon added in the clubhouse where the Pirates seemed to take in stride their 6-4 victory over New York Yankees.

The ball that Berra hit was a deep shot to right centre.

The Pirates were leading 3-1 and Roger Maris was on second base and Mickey Mantle on first.

The 10 hits off Law included a home run by Maris.

"I wasn't as sharp as I usually am," Law said. "I wasn't tired, just not getting the ball over the plate."

Both reached up and Viridon plate.

Georgie Perron Rolls High Average

Georgie Perron of Braves team pipped up a 609 score in three games Wednesday night and divided it up for a high average of .212.

In other women's commercial league action, Bankhead and Alley-ops both chalked up 2615 for a team high triple tie.

Alley-ops took team single honors with a score of 915.

Other high averages were rolled by Vida Levasseur with 204 and Mich Tahara with 191.

B.C. Lions Offered New Contract On Stadium

VANCOUVER (CP)—A bid to bring an American Football League franchise to Vancouver was scotched at least temporarily Wednesday night when British Columbia Lions were offered an exclusive 2 1/2-year contract for the city's only major football stadium.

Officials of the Pacific National Exhibition, which operates 32,000-seat Empire stadium for the city, lions representatives for contract talks.

However, Vancouver financier Peter Graham said he plans to carry his battle for a chance to rent the stadium to city council. He questioned the right of exhibition officials to award an exclusive contract, thereby shutting out his bid for a franchise in the newly-formed AFL until the 1963 season.

TERRIBLE CALIBRE
"They have committed the sports fans of Vancouver to a terrible calibre of football. After all, what kind of a league is where a team that wins three of 11 games (the Lions) is still fighting for a playoff berth?" he said.

PNE president Dr. Jack Berry issued a statement saying the contract recommendation "is expressing the opinion that it is not in the best interests of football or the public to have two Vancouver-based teams in two leagues."

The new contract would be the same as previous one. The Lions have been paying 15 per cent of the gate in the form of rental. Dr. Berry said PNE lawyers the others for the winners.

COACH POWELL TALKS IT UP

Coach Ray Powell talks things over with goalie Colin McCormick (centre) and returning forward Russ Kowalchuk as Kelowna Packers open their 1960-61 training camp Wednesday night. The new Packers coach put some 18 players, including many juniors and those returning from last season, through a two-hour workout. (See story elsewhere on this page.) (Staff photo)

Stamps Take Riders 39-22 To Push Leos from Third

CALGARY (CP)—Calgary Stampedeers, for the moment at least, own the third and last playoff spot in the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

They bounced in by thumping Saskatchewan Roughriders 39-22 Wednesday night and taking a one-point third-place edge over British Columbia Lions.

The tables could be reversed tonight when B.C. plays host to Edmonton Eskimos at Vancouver's Empire Stadium.

Scoring leader for Calgary Wednesday night was Earl Lunsford with three touchdowns. Doug Brown was not idle, kicking three punts, two singles and a field goal for eight points. Clare Exelby and Don Stone scored the other two touchdowns and Ron Morris wrapped up the ledger with a single.

Bobby Renn went over with two Saskatchewan touchdowns and Vernon Vaughn picked up the third. Reg Whitehouse connected for all the converts and Ned Burket kicked a single.

HEALTHY EDGE
Brown opened the scoring with a single when his 33-yard field goal attempt went wide. Exelby and Stone followed with their touchdowns and Brown converted both of them to give Stamps a healthy 15-0 edge when the first quarter gun sounded.

Brown kicked an eight-yard field goal in the second and Lunsford went over from the one-yard line for an unconverted touchdown to make it 24-0 at half time.

Saskatchewan reached the scoreboard at 1:22 of the third when Burket planted a 40-yard kick into the end zone for a single. Morris kept things even with a single five minutes later and then Vaughn pulled in a 10-yard pass from Don Allard for a touchdown. Lunsford bulled across on a 37-yard run off tackle a scant two minutes after Saskatchewan's convert to make it 31-8 going into the fourth quarter.

Brown opened the final quarter with a single—another field goal attempt at the 28-second mark—and then Allard started hitting with his passes. Renn went over on a six-yarder at 4:50 and Calgary retaliated when Lunsford ran over from nine yards out on another off-tackle play. Renn took a five-yard pass from Allard to score his second touchdown of the night and Roughriders ended scoring with Whitehouse's third conversion.

FTACEK MISSED
Rough riders undoubtedly missed the passing of quarterback Bob Ftacek, injured last Friday when Edmonton downed Saskatchewan 9-2.

Riders were also without the services of end Jack Gotta and defensive halfback Gene Winsluk, and then lost fullback Ray Smith in the opening play of the third quarter when he re-injured his left leg.

Saskatchewan had the edge on Stampedeers in the first downs department, 25-23. Allard completed 19 of 37 pass attempts and Joe Kapp hit for 13 of 22.

B.C. TOUGHER
The game in Vancouver to night could pull Edmonton within two points of league leading Winnipeg Blue Bombers if they beat Lions.

Eskos coach Eagle Keys regards B.C. tougher offensively this season than last year.

Lions hope the return of two top players will give them enough steam to drop Eskimos for the first time this year after three straight tries.

Bob Jeter, fast-charging halfback, and defensive end Dave Barrus will be back in action.

Coach Wayne Robinson said he would dress only one quarterback but refused to say whether it would be Jim Walden or Randy Duncan. He also said offensive end John Lands, who has appeared in only one game this season, will be in the lineup.

Eskimos meanwhile were travelling light when they arrived in Vancouver—but not by choice. Keys took only 28 players with him and two of them—Roger Nelson and Bill Smith—may not see action due to injuries.

The Eagle left six players at home, most of them men the Eskos could count on when going got rough. Out with injuries are: Ted Tully, Nat Dye, Oscar Kruger, Roy Stevenson, Art Walker and Jack Lamb.

Wayne Hicks Helps Bisons

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Rookie Warren Hynes scored three goals and goalie Al Millar shut out Providence Wednesday night as Hershey Bears opened their American Hockey League season with a 7-0 victory over the Rees at Hershey.

In the other AHL game, at Buffalo, three rookies helped the rebuilt Bisons open the season with a 6-4 victory over Rochester Americans.

The first five Hershey goals were scored by new players, including those by the 25-year-old Hynes, Myron Stankiewicz and Jack McIntyre scored the first two, then Hynes tallied in each period.

Ray Kinasewich and Claude Laforge scored in the final period as Hershey turned the game into a rout. Millar made 24 saves and got strong defensive support from Howie Young and Larrrie (The Rock) Zeldel.

Phil Watson, former New York Ranger coach made his AHL debut as he handled Providence.

At Buffalo, Wayne Hicks, Vic Macfield and Bob Courcy, the newcomers, each scored for Bisons. Veterans Billy Dea, Larry Willson and Phil Maloney added the others for the winners.

POWELL PLEASSED

Packers Open '60 Camp In Fast-Skating Fashion

Kelowna Packers opened their 1960-61 training camp Wednesday night in fast-skating style.

"And it didn't seem as though some of the players had been off skates all summer," was coach Ray Powell's comment after putting his charges through a brisk workout.

"They looked real good to night, but of course time will tell," the new Packers' boss said.

About 18 players, including returning and a wide selection of local juniors, attended the camp opening. Second workout is set for 6 o'clock tonight.

Trying for the netminder's job are Boris Kabatoff and Colin McCormick while Russ Kowalchuk, Mike Durban, Jim Middleton, Bill (Bugs) Jones, Joe Kaiser and Frank Hoskins will seek a return to forward positions.

Others trying out are Mat Koenig, Jim Tompkins, Nick Bulach, Joe Fisher and three or four from the minor ranks.

Most of the players are expected to arrive for camp either today or tomorrow.

Packers will play their first game Monday night when they meet George Agar's Victoria Cougars in Kelowna.

They swing into regular schedule play October 14 in a game with Vernon at Kelowna.

Season tickets are still available.

NHL STARS

Rookie Len Eason, whose first NHL goal was the winner when New York defeated Boston Bruins 2-1 in their opening game of the season.

Parker MacDonald of Detroit, who scored a third-period goal in the game with Chicago Red Wings that ended in a 1-1 tie.

DEFENCE PROBLEM
Only problem at present is on the defensive side. Former Packer Jim Hanson is expected to turn out for a defence spot and Al Pyett is also a likely prospect.

According to a league ruling, Powell must carry three local juniors.

Wednesday's Tilt Was All Pirates

By JOE REICHLER
PITTSBURGH (AP)—It must be the true rival National League managers have been saying about Pittsburgh.
"They drive you crazy with their constant hitting and running," said Solly Hemus of St. Louis Cardinals.
"They plant smart heads-up baseball," said Fred Hutchinson of Cincinnati. "They know what they're doing all the time. As a team, it's a manager's delight."
"They take advantage of every break," said Chuck Dressen of Milwaukee. "And they make very few mistakes themselves."
"They don't scare," said Lou Boudreau, recently released by Chicago. "All those big names on the Yankees don't mean a thing to them."

BACK UP PROPHECIES
The Pirates made prophets out of their fellow National Leaguers and believers out of the cynics Wednesday, beating New York with more ease than the 6-4 score might indicate. Whether they can do it again in game No. 2 today remained to be seen. In any event, the Pirates demonstrated before 38,676 cash customers at Forbes Field that they were no fluke champions. They undoubtedly have gained new respect, especially from the Yankees.
A 13-to-10 underdog before Wednesday's game, the Pirates

Brown Leaps To Second In WIFU Race

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Place-kicking star Doug Brown of Calgary Stampedeers vaulted into second place in the Western Interprovincial Football Union scoring race Wednesday night as he booted a field goal, three converts and two singles in Stamps' 39-22 win over Saskatchewan Roughriders.
Brown now has 62 points, while Jackie Parker of Edmonton Eskimos continues in the lead with 89.

The largest jump in the standings was by Earl Lunsford of Calgary who scored three touchdowns to put him two points behind Brown and left him in a third place tie with Johnny Bright of Edmonton. Willie Fleming of B.C. Lions and Gerry James of Winnipeg Blue Bombers. They are followed by Bobby Renn of Roughriders, whose two touchdowns Wednesday night gave him a total of 50 points.

The leaders:

Player	Team	Points
Parker, Edm.	Edm.	89
D. Brown, Cal.	Cal.	62
Bright, Edm.	Edm.	50
Fleming, B.C.	B.C.	47
James, Wpg.	Wpg.	41
Renn, Sask.	Sask.	38

have become an 11-to-10 favorite to win the series. Today's battle before another sellout crowd, featuring another right-handed duel, between Bob Friend (18-12) of the Pirates and Bob Turley (9-31) of the Yankees is rated even money.
Except for the pitchers, neither manager planned any lineup or batting order changes. The weatherman predicted another perfect playing day, with sunny skies and temperature in the 60s. Game time is 1 p.m. EDT.

It was all Pittsburgh Wednesday. The Pirates outplayed, outfielded, outran, outmaneuvered and outsmarted the Yankees. They were outbatted but not outslugged even though the American League champions to two homers to one for the home team.
Pittsburgh walloped three extra base hits to New York's two. The Pirates stole two bases to none for the Yankees. They committed no errors while their rivals had two. And Pittsburgh manager Danny Murtaugh even borrowed a page from Casey Stengel's book by going to his bench in the late innings for defensive purposes and to the mound in tense moments for counsel to his pitchers.

"We're a probing club," Murtaugh had warned earlier. "We seek out the opposition's weaknesses and try to exploit them."
The Pittsburgh players wasted little time demonstrating what Murtaugh meant. In the first inning, Roger Maris walloped a home run off 20-game winning right-hander Vern Law to give the Yankees a 1-0 lead. But the Pirates went right to work on starter Art Ditmar, driving him from the mound before he could get the second out.

WORLD BRIEFS

EXPENSIVE FAIR
NEW YORK (AP) — Officials of the 1964-65 New York World's Fair plan to borrow $67,500,000 to enable the fair to open May 1, 1964. Robert Moses, fair president, and finance committee chairman John W. Harnes said Wednesday it will cost $98,300,000 to get the fair under way.

TYPHOON KILLS 14
MANILA (AP) — At least 14 persons were reported killed by Typhoon Kit, in the southern Philippines today. Powered by 90-mile-an-hour winds, the storm moved toward southern Luzon. Press reports said the dead included 10 persons drowned in the sinking of two boats.

ABBAS LEAVES CHINA
TOKYO (AP) — Algerian rebel Premier Ferhat Abbas left Red China today after a week's stay, predicting the Chinese Communists "will support ever more effectively our liberation struggle." He declared the day will come when Algeria will be a free and independent nation.

Rangers Take First Place As Rookie Blasts Winner

New York Rangers, who spent most of last season in the National Hockey League cellar, are in first place today—thanks to a winning goal from rookie Len Ronson.
Ronson's goal—his first in the NHL—gave Rangers a 2-1 win against Boston Bruins Wednesday night in the first of two games heralding the 1960-61 season.
It was the first time the Rangers, who finished last in the NHL in the 1959-60 season, had opened the schedule at home in 34 years and the game drew 13,475 spectators to Madison Square Garden.

In the other opener, Chicago Black Hawks and Detroit Red Wings played to a 1-1 tie before 8,134 fans in Chicago Stadium to share second spot. Boston is fourth.

FIRE WINNING GOAL
Ronson, who played last season with Fort Wayne, Ind., Komets of the International Hockey League, fired the winning goal at 6:13 of the third period.

His goal atoned for a power-play goal in the first period from Doug Mohns of Boston while he was off for a minor hooking penalty.

The veteran Mohns took a loose puck and drove it past goalie

UNEMPLOYMENT DOWN
NUERNBERG (Reuters)—Unemployment in West Germany fell by 1,465 to 111,644—about one-half of one per cent of the country's working force—at the end of last month, it was announced today.

HOT MUD DUMP
PARIS (AP) — The Mediterranean Sea may soon be used for disposal of radioactive wastes, according to a French Atomic Energy Commission project. The Marcoule plutonium plant has 2,000 tons of radioactive mud stored in some 6,500 stainless steel barrels. The plan, already approved by Euratom, calls for the sinking of these barrels 50 miles south of Antibes at a depth of 7,500 feet.

SUSPECT SUICIDE
VANCOUVER (CP) — City police believe a man committed suicide Tuesday night by jumping off the Lions Gate Bridge. A car was found abandoned on the third span but a search of Burrard Inlet revealed no trace of the body.

Official Scorers Make Change In Error

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The official scorers of the world series changed their minds after the game Wednesday and pinned the first-inning New York Yankee error on Tony Kubek instead of Yogi Berra.
Berra threw to second in an effort to catch Bill Virdon stealing, but neither Kubek, the Yankee shortstop, nor second baseman Bobby Richardson, was anywhere near the bag. The ball soared into center-field, allowing Virdon to reach third.
Berra was originally charged with the error but as the throw was good and the responsibility for covering the bag was up to Richardson and Kubek, it was decided to absolve Berra and the blame was fixed on Kubek.

REMEMBER WHEN . . .
The boxing adage that "they don't come back" was demonstrated when Benny Leonard lost to Vancouver's Jimmy McLarnin on a technical knockout in the sixth round of their welterweight bout 28 years ago tonight. Leonard had been the lightweight champion from 1917 to 1924. McLarnin went on to win the welter title in 1933, losing it to Barney Ross, then beating Barney and finally losing again to Barney in 1935.

HERE! THE GREATEST SHOW ON WORTH!

SIXTY-ONE DERFUL CHEVROLET

Here's the car that reads you loud and clear — the new-size, you-size '61 Chevrolet. A car so right for you in so many ways that once you compare it with the rest of the crop you'll agree nothing else near the money measures up to it.

We started out by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. Door openings are as much as 6 inches wider to give feet, knees and elbows the undisputed right of way. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher — just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

Once you've settled inside you'll have high and wide praises for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupes, for example, headroom has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more legroom, too — front and rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please you hugely — what with its deep-well shape and bumper-level loading it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

Yet, generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-etched elegance, it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty, dependable virtues Chevrolet buyers have come to take for granted. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details that make this sensationally sensible '61 Chevy a new measure of your money's worth.

THE CORVAIR 700 LAKEWOOD 4-DOOR STATION WAGON

Each a General Motors Value
Whitewall tires optional at extra cost

More room — more for you, more for your things. More dependable operation. Smarter, smoother styling. More miles per gallon. Station Wagons, too.
Corvair for '61: a complete line of complete thrifty-cars from Chevrolet.
To start with, every Corvair Sedan and Coupe costs less. And Corvair goes on from there to save you even more. With extra miles per gallon . . . quicker-than-ever cold-start warmup so you start saving sooner . . . a new extra-cost optional heater that warms everybody evenly. Riding along with this extra economy: more room inside for you, more room up front for your luggage (sedans and coupes have almost 12% more useable trunk space).
And our new wagons? You'll love them. They're the greatest thing for families since houses. The Lakewood Station Wagons do a man-sized job with cargo, up to 68 cubic feet of it. The Green-brier Sports Wagons you're going to have to see — they give you up to 175.5 cubic feet of space for you and your things. Compare that with any other Canadian wagon going!
Corvair's whole thrifty line-up gets its pep from a spunkier 145-cu.-in. air-cooled rear engine. Same rear-engine traction, same smooth 4-wheel independent-suspension ride. See the polished and refined 1961 Corvair first chance you get at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Broadway Lights Outshine Money For Nat King Cole

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - The other night, Nat King Cole and his wife were in slight disagreement over the directions to Cine.

"I ought to know," he insisted.
"Back in 1938, I used to take the Sunset bus near there to rehearse a radio singer at $5 a session."

Cole has come a long way since those days, so long that he is currently able to pass up $300,000 in bookings to fulfill a long ambition of appearing on Broadway.

"A lot of people think I'm crazy," he admits. "Especially the people in my own organization, because they can see that money going out the window. But they don't know what I know. I decided to do it. I had to do some rearranging, because I regularly play five spots each year: The Copa in New York,

Fairmont in San Francisco, Fontainebleau in Miami, Coconut Grove in L.A. and Sands in Las Vegas. The Sands alone pays me $200,000 a year.

"They all thought I was crazy, too, when I asked out of my commitments. Maybe they're right."

The whole idea started when Cole recorded an album called Wild Is Love, written by newcomers Dotty Wayne and Ray Rasch. It was a story idea that seemed convertible into a stage musical, and such a project was undertaken. Later, it was decided to create a whole new musical based on the varying themes of love. The result was called I'm With You.

INSIDE YOU AND YOURS

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Miracle Of Your Liver

Although the usual gallstone can be absorbed with less toll, sufferer is supposed to be "fair, fat and forty"—the fair refers to the fair sex, not the complexion—the sufferer may be a 92 and may range in age from two to 92 and may be so thin you can play xylophone music on his ribs.

If Caesar had been a modern biologist instead of an ancient general, he might have written, "All gall is divided into three parts—the bile salts, the bile pigments and cholesterol."

The bile salts are manufactured by the liver to aid fat digestion; the bile pigments come from destroyed blood cells and cholesterol is part of the fat circulating through the body.

Normally, the gall (or bile as it is now called) flows down a main pipeline or duct from the liver to the small intestine. The bile would pour down continually, but since it is needed only when fat is in the small intestine, nature has designed a bile storage tank, and gall bladder. This collapsible tank is hooked on to the main bile duct and a simple valve arrangement directs the bile into the gall bladder where it is stored until needed.

HOW IT OPERATES

During storage, water evaporates through the wall of the gall bladder, leaving behind a thick green concentrated syrup. When fat enters the small intestine, the gall bladder tightens, the valve opens and the concentrated bile pours into the intestinal tract. Here, the bile salts work like super-duper detergents, breaking the fat into small particles which can be absorbed with less toll. The bile pigments and excess cholesterol pass out with the intestinal wastes.

Infection or sluggish bile circulation may upset the gall bladder's continual cycle of collecting, concentrating and contracting. Like salmon in season, bacteria may swim upstream from the intestine or they may stop off at the gall bladder while taking the grand tour through the circulation. After remaining in a sluggish gall bladder too long, the bile may become so over-concentrated that it irritates and causes the same inflammation as an infection.

In either case, the victim has attacks of fever, indigestion and pain in the upper abdomen, especially when fried or fatty foods make his gall bladder contract. Antibiotics may help the infection, and rest and a fat-free diet will often relieve the symptoms. But as long as the same condition persists, infection and inflammation will return again and again.

Long-standing gall bladder inflammation leads to gallstones. Protein produced by the inflammation serves as a framework on which to build the gallstones, and fine fatty crystals of cholesterol drop out of solution to become the centers of these large lumps.

Other factors may also paint the background of the gallstone picture.

IN PREGNANCY
 For instance, pregnancy increases the amount of cholesterol circulating through the blood and bile; repeated destruction of trates on those distributions which permit the contract to be made and lays his plans to achieve that aim.

A defender thinks along similar lines. He does not see the declarer's hand, of course, and the best he can do is theorize about its contents. He must not credit declarer with a hand that would make the contract unbeatable. To do so would be equivalent to giving up without a fight.

The defender imagines instead that declarer has some combination of cards that renders him vulnerable. The defender then directs his aim at that vulnerable spot.

To get down to cases, take this hand and look at it from East's viewpoint. West leads a heart against four spades. East wins the king, South dropping the queen.

If East now continues with the ace of hearts, which would seem to be the natural thing to do, South makes the hand easily—in fact, South would make 12 tricks.

But East should not return a heart. He should recognize that such a play has no future. East's goal is to win four tricks for the defense, and this is hardly possible if he grants declarer the ace of clubs.

He therefore must credit West with the ace of clubs. But no sooner does he start to think in these channels than the defense becomes self-evident. To win four tricks a club ruff is necessary.

East therefore leads the king of clubs, continues with a club, and trumps the third club to defeat the contract.

Opening lead—ten of hearts. The principle that the declarer's first consideration is to make the contract has a corollary, namely, that the defender's first consideration is to defeat the contract.

There is a basic similarity between the declarer's approach to the play of a hand and the defender's approach to the defense of a hand.

The declarer, whenever he is playing a contract the outcome of which depends upon how the opponent's cards are distributed, dismisses from consideration those hands that would lead to inevitable defeat.

Instead, the declarer concentrates on those distributions which permit the contract to be made and lays his plans to achieve that aim.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
 Tomorrow the stars emphasize relations with those surrounding you, especially in money matters. Orderliness is the key word, but this should be easy because you are encouraged by the moon in Taurus.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
 If tomorrow is your birthday, the year ahead is unusually fine. Both business and social matters are promising and you have an indication of travel in the summer's high noon.

Social affairs favored all year long will flower from mid-May to the end of July, with another upswing in October. Maybe vacation pleasure in the summer and heartside contentment in the fall; whatever it means in your individual life.

In business matters, keep your nose to the grindstone and look for an opportunity in early January.

A child born on this day will have a sense of justice and enjoy ordered work.

C.N.R. Shops Turn Bridge Builders

MONCTON, N.B. (CP) — The Canadian National Railways' shops here have gone into the bridge-building business.

So far this year the shops have turned out three bridges to be used on Maritime lines.

The bridges are prefabricated and transported in sections to their sites aboard 100-car trains hauled by three- and four-unit diesels.

SPECIAL PROJECTS
 QUEBEC (CP) — "Le Carabin," student newspaper at Laval University, plans a number of special editions during the coming year dealing in turn with the change in provincial government, free education, hospital insurance and Saskatchewan's CCF government.

huge quantities of blood cells are jammed back to the liver and bloodstream.

FREQUENT ATTACKS
 The victim suffers frequent gall bladder attacks which stem from repeated inflammations or bile duct blockage. Eventually the gall bladder loses its concentrating ability and this leads to more indigestion. Special gall bladder x-rays may help to diagnose gall bladder trouble.

Whether or not they contain stones, diseased gall bladders fatty cholesterol are related to gallstones, there is some truth to the slogan, "Fair, fat and forty."

Recently You and Yours may have heard a new slogan advertising "the miracle of your liver bile." The real miracle is that the "gray-flannel men can describe as "beautiful golden bile" something which for centuries has been referred to as bilious-green.

ROCKET SUCCESSES

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Polaris submarine missile streaked 1,200 miles and a Redstone raced 200 miles in a pair of successful rocket launchings Wednesday.

ONLY 12 PER CENT FIT

MONTREAL (CP)—Dr. Douglas G. Cameron, director of McGill University's medical clinic, said Wednesday Canadians are not physically fit and that possibly only 12 per cent are physically normal. The rest show some abnormalities or even serious disorders which they may not know they have "due to their insistence on refusing to get a medical check-up," he told members of the Electrical Club of Montreal.

EIGHT DIE IN CRASH

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Eight persons died Wednesday night when a loaded taxicab slammed into a transport truck and careened into a family car. Six of the dead were in the taxi. Mrs. Shirley Dorsey, 30, of Minden, La., and her son, Bradford, 11 months, were the others. The lone survivor was Mrs. Dorsey's wright Moss Hart, died Wednesday.

EICHMANN'S FLEA

JERUSALEM (Reuters)—West German lawyer Robert Servatius, who will defend former SS Col. Adolf Eichmann when he goes on trial in Israel, said Wednesday he expects to plead that the alleged war-time murderer of millions of Jews was "obeying orders."

REMEMBRANCE SUNDAY

LONDON (Reuters)—The Queen has decided that Nov. 13 will be observed as Remembrance Sunday in honor of the dead of two world wars, the home office announced today.

HART'S FATHER DIES

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Barnett Hart, father of playing-down, the driver speeded up to drive through the lions.

"WHIPPING BOY" OUT

OTTAWA (CP)—Les Wismer, research director for the National Defence Employees Association since 1957, has been relieved of his duties, an association official said Wednesday. No reason was given. Mr. Wismer said he had been made the "whipping boy" in a rising tide of membership discontent over operations of the executive.

BANDITS STOP CARS

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Three vicious armed bandits stopped four cars of travellers on a lonely stretch of highway east of El Paso early Wednesday. One woman was raped and several of the travellers were beaten and robbed of about $1,000 in cash. None was believed seriously hurt.

LION KILLER

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters)—The warden of the Amboseli national park in Kenya reported that a heavy truck ran into a lion and killed three. He said it appeared that instead of slowing down, the driver speeded up to drive through the lions.

What's The Name For State Of Business In U.S. Today?

WHAT'S THE NAME

NEW YORK (AP)—Finding a name for just what's happening to U.S. business and finance these days is blowing up almost as big a debate as is interpretation of the statistics. One school hangs the tag of recession on the current U.S. situation. Another says it's no such thing, just another rolling adjustment.

A few still stick to the old-fashioned boom or bust. But many hold that the days of the real boom and the real bust have been legislated out of any chance of return.

WIDE CHOICE

Here are some of the terms now being used:

Recession—The term now being used twice before since the war. It means a turn-down in business, an upturn in unemployment, a slackening all along the line—but milder than the old-fashioned term of depression.

Rolling adjustment—This description of today's happenings means that industries tend to have their own depressions at squeezed.

different times—some laid low while others are still climbing.

Sidewise on a high plateau—Some still think that's what's going on today. It means the economy climbed up, stopped to take a breather, and at the moment isn't going either up or down for sure.

Controlled cycle—This is the theory that the old days of big upswings followed by inevitable downswings have been made obsolete. In other words, we won't let a real big cycle happen anymore.

Built-in stabilizers or cushions—These are the cycle controls. They include unemployment benefits, regulations against too much speculation, turning tight money on or off, long-term wage contracts and government monitoring of the economy.

Profitless prosperity—That's what many companies who today report record or near-record sales but lower earnings call their predicament. They mean that costs can't be cut enough to keep profits climbing while sales do. Profit margins are badly squeezed.
